Description

Whenever we try creating a new account without filling any information, the missing fields aren’t highlighted all at once. First, the existing code checks if the dropdown menu labeled “What will you use the map for?”. If it’s not updated, it will be the only field highlighted as missing. Then once filled, the system checks if the checkbox of terms and conditions is clicked. If it’s not, then it is the only highlighted field as missing. Once we fill these two inputs, the system checks the name, email and password fields together.

The screenshot shows the 'Signup' page with the following fields: 'Profile picture (not mandatory)' with an 'Upload photo' button, 'Your Name', 'Your Email', 'Password', and 'What will you use the map for?' (a dropdown menu). Below these fields is a reCAPTCHA 'I'm not a robot' checkbox and a 'Get Started' button. At the bottom, there is a checkbox for 'I accept the Terms and Conditions'.

The screenshot shows the 'Signup' page with the 'What will you use the map for?' dropdown menu set to 'Researcher'. The 'Get Started' button is highlighted in green. Below the button, there is a checkbox for 'I accept the Terms and Conditions' with a red error message: 'You must agree with the terms and conditions.'
